THE BRITISH COLUMBIAN.

NO. 87. VOL. 8.] NEW WESTMINSTER, SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 1869. [PRICE 1s. or 25 cts.

THIS JOURNAL is the oldest newspaper published in British Columbia; is read by every business man from New Westminster to the Rocky Mountains, and is unrivalled as an advertising medium for this Colony.

This paper may be read gratuitously in London at the Central Establishment of "HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT," 244, Oxford Street, W.C., where advertisements and subscriptions for the same are received.

The British Columbian.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 1869.

OUR GREAT WANT.

That the cardinal want of this Colony is population few persons will, we apprehend, attempt to deny. With every advantage and resource necessary to make a great and prosperous Colony, British Columbia is less prosperous and attracts far less attention to-day than at the commencement of the present decade. How is this? Simply because we have only a mere handful of population, a few thousand people living upon one another. No fresh blood has been infused, no fresh capital introduced. The same old faces, the same impoverished pockets present themselves always. A story is told of two boys who shut themselves up in a room for a whole day and "made money like dirt" by trading jack-knives back and forward. The people of British Columbia are too much in the same position. Why is this? In a despatch, written by the then Governor of this Colony, to Lord Stanley, and dated May 19th, 1858, the following very remarkable passage occurs:—"I am now convinced that it is utterly impossible, through any means within our power, to close the Gold Districts against the entrance of foreigners as long as gold is found in abundance, in which case the country will soon be overrun and occupied by a large white population, whether it be agreeable to our wishes or not; while, on the contrary, it is no less certain that the excitement on the subject will soon altogether cease, if the diggings prove unremunerative, and the crowds now gathering on the banks of Fraser's River will in that case soon abandon the country, and return to their homes. The evil will thus work its own cure without interposition on our part." Truly a Daniel come to judgment! Let us complete the picture by imagining the Governor locking the door of the room in which the two boys were trading jack-knives, and putting the key in his pocket. Just think of it! While other colonies were spending large sums towards inducing people to resort to their less distant shores, some of them devoting large portions of revenue towards assisting them thither, we, on the outermost rim of creation, viewed an influx of "a large white population" in the light of a national calamity! and we are assured, although the despatches are silent upon the subject, that a war vessel was actually stationed at the entrance of the Colony to prevent ingress!! Now, although such very extraordinary overt acts are happily confined to the earlier history of the Colony, is it not a fact that, all through, down to the present day, those administering our affairs appear to be, if not disposed absolutely to prevent the influx of population, at least, indisposed to facilitate such a contingency? To such an extent has this indifference, if not positive antipathy, to population been carried that some persons have fallen into the belief that the governing classes fear they could not undertake with any degree of safety the management and control of a larger population, that with any considerable influx of people the galling yoke of irresponsible and despotic rule would be cast off. It is difficult to entertain this view. Looking at the subject from the lowest and most mercenary stand-point, every additional Colonist would be a fresh goose for the revenue-consumers to pluck. Even if the governing classes were so totally devoid of every feeling of patriotism as this hypothesis would suggest, still their very appetite for revenue would predispose them to wish an increase of population. We must, therefore, look for some other ground upon which to account for the very remarkable condition presented by the history of British Columbia.

DISRAELI ON THE ESTABLISHMENT.—Well may the Irish Establishment exclaim, "save me from my friends!" Disraeli, in his zeal without knowledge, thus defends the doomed establishment:—"The principles of the Reformation never would have succeeded had they not been connected with a corporation so distinguished for its learning and piety, and so fortified by its position, as the Church of England." What will the clergy themselves say to this most heterodox averment? We have been educated in the belief that the purity and truth of the "doctrines of the Reformation" ensured their success under any and all circumstances. Will Mr. Disraeli tell us how these "principles" succeeded North of the Tweed, when the leaders of "a corporation so distinguished for its learning and piety," caused the glens of Scotland to flow with the blood of Nonconformity? There, at any rate, "The principles of the Reformation" succeeded, not by connection with, but in spite of the most fiendish hate and bloody persecution ruthlessly let loose against them by the bloodhounds of "a corporation so distinguished for its learning and piety."

DON CARLOS, or "Charles VII. of Spain" as he calls himself, is occupying genteel apartments in the Rue Cardinal Fesch, Paris. He is described as a handsome young man, with grave, polished manners. He reminds visitors of his rank and the cloud which overhangs him at present, by invariably handing them a chair with his own hands. Strict Spanish etiquette forbids any one to sit in the presence of the sovereign, and this action is intended to impress upon his visitors that he waives its provisions for the time being. Another pamphlet, advocating his claims to the vacant throne has made its appearance, this time in Spanish. It is entitled Spain and Charles VII., and makes the most extravagant promises as to the patriotism, prudence and uprightness to be exhibited by the Pretender, should he reach the throne.

FREDRICK THE GREAT.—Never was so much mischief done to international morality as by the preaching and too successful practice of that distinguished idol of modern hero-worshippers. It is not too much to say that he brought down to a lower level the moral principle of a century. Mere aggrandisement became, after his triumphs, the recognised, laudable purpose of a model Sovereign. We do not want to profess prudery in this matter, or to set up the ordinary comparison of school rhetoric between conquerors and robbers. It is not practically true. The captive pirate boldly told Alexander that they two were on a level; but Alexander went on his way conquering and to conquer, while the pirate was hanged; and, on the whole, the distinction was ratified as a just one, regard being had to public expediency as the real sanction of criminal law. But if the sins of Sovereigns be not technically of the same order with those of vulgar criminals, they are far more sweeping and disastrous in their consequences. The success of Frederick, in his flagrant disregard of international justice, was most productive of evil by example; just as the exploits of a very fortunate gambler would for a time disorganise society in the class to which he belonged, and as the fame of Dick Turpin and Cartouche produced very deleterious effects on theirs.—Edinburgh Review.

A great French Physician says: "More than half the disease in the world comes from neglect to fortify the system against changes of climate, weather and food. The great secret of health is to keep the condition of the Stomach and Blood regular and uniform, so that changes from Heat to Cold, from Dry to Damp, etc., cannot upset the machinery of the Body, and breed disease."

Now, it is a fact, positive and well known, that there is no such bulwark and assistant for the Stomach as

PLANTATION BITTERS.

This splendid Tonic is now used by all classes of people for every symptom of a "Stomach out of order."

The secret of it is this: Plantation Bitters are certain to correct the juices of the Stomach, set all the machinery at work, and enable it to resist and throw off the approaching danger. The tendency of the operations of Nature is always towards a cure; all she needs is a little assistance at the proper time. How much more reasonable and sensible it is to help her along with a gentle yet powerful Tonic, than to deluge half-broken and defeated her curative processes with poisonous drugs and fiery mixtures which only stupify and plant the seeds of disease and death.

Important Certificates.

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use. Thy friend, ASA CURRIE, Phil., Pa."

C. W. D. ANDREWS,

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted Nature's great restorers.

The public may rest assured that in no case will the perfectly pure standard of the PLANTATION BITTERS be departed from.

Every bottle bears the fac-simile of our signature on a steel plate engraving, or it cannot be genuine.

Any person pretending to sell PLANTATION BITTERS in bulk or by the gallon, is a swindler and imposter. Beware of refilled bottles. See that our Private Stamp is UNMUTILATED over every cork.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 1869.

THE SAN FRANCISCO OF THE NORTH.

Some time ago we drew attention to the probable influence upon the commerce of the North Pacific of the establishment of railroad communication between Portland-on-Willamette and Puget Sound. That important enterprise would appear to be rather more imminent than we were at first led to suppose. Portland is a large and rapidly growing city, with a large import and still larger export trade. That trade suffers from heavy charges in the shape of insurance, bar-pilotage, river-pilotage, &c. It is to obtain relief from these, and to place Portland in a position to compete successfully with San Francisco, as well as to build up a town on Puget Sound, capable of commanding the trade of the North Pacific, that the railway is projected. We are assured that the necessary capital is all forthcoming and that the work will be immediately proceeded with, and pushed to completion with that alacrity which is ever the peculiar characteristic of Yankee enterprise. "Ben Halliday" is one of the chief movers in the enterprise, and he will at once place a line of first class steamers between San Francisco and the terminus of the railway on Puget Sound, carrying freight and passengers both ways, at the most moderate rates. It is not difficult to see that, under this arrangement, there will spring into existence on Puget Sound a commercial and maritime town which will secure the lion's share of the trade of the North Pacific, if, indeed, it does not obtain an absolute monopoly thereof. With Alaska to the north of us, British interests on the Pacific will indeed be "sandwiched." Nor is it difficult to see in all this a great change in our own commercial relations. Since Victoria foolishly sacrificed her Free Port she has lost much of the trade of the Mainland, whose principal merchants now deal directly with San Francisco. Under the potent influence of this new arrangement, by which San Francisco will virtually be brought as near to us as Victoria, the latter town must loose the Mainland altogether as a customer. Even now it is the height of folly to conduct the commerce of the Mainland away round by Victoria, thereby incurring delay, transhipment and enormous additional charges, charges larger in themselves than the entire freight between San Francisco and New Westminster, if brought direct! Under the new condition, to draw our supplies via Victoria would simply be out of the question. Between this and the new San Francisco direct communication will undoubtedly spring up, and, increasing with the growth of the Colony, will soon employ a daily line of steamers. To say that we view such a prospect with unmixed satisfaction would not be correct. One would naturally wish to see a large commercial and maritime town spring up within British territory. And such might have been the case had not Victoria, through a short-sighted and selfish policy, placed insuperable obstructions in the way. Now the opportunity has passed, we fear, beyond the possibility of recall. For this the Merchants and Politicians (!) of Victoria have themselves entirely to blame, and they have no right to expect much sympathy from the Mainland, when, to employ a phrase more expressive than classical, they shall have been "dried up" by their more enlightened and enterprising neighbors. That such is their destiny there is too much reason to fear. Once the town on Puget Sound becomes a verity the Americans now doing business in Victoria (and they comprise some of her foremost merchants) will of course transfer themselves thither, for two very cogent reasons:—It will be the most eligible base of operations; and they will very naturally prefer to reside in their own country. Thus American interests in these northern waters will all concentrate, and a power must speedily spring up before which all others will be in danger of having to succumb. The influence upon the Mainland portion of the Colony certain to be exercised by this new condition of things presents an interesting study. That our commercial position and relations will be greatly improved is clear. But is equally clear that with these new advantages will come new dangers and temptations. The people of the Mainland, never met in a spirit of fairness, have felt more than ever, since the perpetration of the outrage of carrying the Seat of Government away onto an outlying island, at one extreme of the Colony, that there is little to hope for under the existing state of things. They have been taught to regard the governing classes, both here and at home, in the light of a common enemy. Drawn into more direct and intimate commercial relations with their powerful and more enterprising neighbors, they will naturally become less tolerant of Downing-street and Victoria neglect and injustice; and a desire to form new political relations will only be kept down by a radical improvement in the political institutions of the Colony.

MORE FIGHTING WITH THE MAORIES.

The late mails from New Zealand bring an account of more fighting, between the British troops and the warlike natives of that country. It appears that in August last the native prisoners at the Chatham Islands (numbering in all 298 souls) made their escape in a vessel, landing at Poverty Bay. They succeeded in carrying off 49 stand of arms, £500 in cash and as much flour, sugar and tobacco as they cared to remove. The quantity of amunition taken was 4,584 rounds. Besides, they robbed all the houses on the beach excepting that of one lady, who hid a bag of sovereigns (£300,) in a tea-kettle, while boiling on the fire. These escaped prisoners made their way into the interior, pursued by two Government expeditions; but it appears that both expeditions were disastrously driven back. The first engagement took place on the 8th August. On that date, Lieutenant-Colonel Whitmore's force was pressing forward to get at the enemy, when it was led into an ambuscade, and had to beat a hasty retreat, leaving the dead upon the ground. The following is the list of the killed and wounded on the side of the British:—Killed.—Captain Davis Canning, shot through the heart; Captain Carr, unknown where; Patrick Condon, shot through the head; William Coates, shot through the head; one friendly native. Wounded.—Patrick Burns, shot through the body (since dead); James Beattie, shot in the thigh; George McKay (N. V.) shot in the shoulder; Captain Tuke, shot in the arm; John Lewis, shot in the thigh (slight); one friendly native. On the enemy's side about twelve men were seen to fall. Colonel Whitmore is said to have acted with little prudence in his eagerness to overtake the enemy. On the 21st of the same month a force of 270 men under Colonel McDonnell captured a pah, after a hard fight. The natives lost nine. The British had three killed and eight wounded. On the 7th Sept. another and more sanguinary engagement took place. It appears that while the British were searching for the rebels, not far from the newly destroyed pah, they received a well-directed fire from the rebels, who not only lined the rifle pits, but had perched themselves in the tops of trees. Although under this deadly fire the officers fell one after another, a good and orderly retreat was effected. Of the British 14 were killed, including the gallant Major Von Tempsky, Capts. Buck and Palmer and Lieutenants Hastings and Hunter. The rebels had 27 killed; wounded not known. Preparations were being made with a view to striking a decisive blow, as the partial successes of the rebels were thought likely to exert a dangerous influence upon native tribes at present peaceful.

Feed is so scarce in some sections of Ohio that farmers are selling off their stock at remarkably low figures. Sheep are being slaughtered for their pelts by the thousand. Five thousand two hundred and fifty sheep were sold at Cleveland last week for $272,60 or five cents per head, the seller retaining the hides, and the purchaser slaughtering the animals. Carcasses of sheep all ready for delivery are sold at the astonishing low figure of 40c to 60c each.

FEMALE EDUCATION.

The absence of a school or other institution in which a good sound English education can be obtained for girls is beginning to be very much felt in this community, and we feel it to be our duty to draw attention to the subject. We may be excused for alluding to one circumstance which tends in some measure to intensify the grievance at the present time. For several years past a sort of Denominational school has been taught by a lady connected with the Anglican Church. The school was endowed by the Anglican Bishop and was, we believe, in the fullest sense, under the auspices of the Church he represents. His lordship has thought fit recently to withdraw the endowment, and the school has, for the present at least, been discontinued in consequence. Without presuming to pass judgment upon the Bishop's conduct in this matter, or pronounce upon the correctness of the popular belief in his sectional proclivities, we may be permitted to say that the proceeding does not appear to harmonize with the Anglican interests in this part of the diocese, and is not quite in keeping with the idea of that Impartial oversight supposed to be exercised by an ecclesiastical functionary occupying so exalted and responsible a position. Not that we believe in Denominational schools in a country like British Columbia; but we merely allude to this circumstance as tending to make the absence of a public female school more felt at the present juncture. Nor would we, in dealing with this subject, wish to treat lightly, much less ignore, other existing institutions. The Sisters of St. Ann, for instance, are prepared to undertake the education of girls; and they not only impartian English Education, but teach French, Latin, music, drawing, fancy-work, &c. Of course there are reasons why this institution, however well conducted it may be, can never meet the general want. Protestants will have their scruples; and there are many who cannot afford a tuition fee which, while perhaps reasonable for such an institution, is obviously beyond the reach of the masses. Then, again there is a private or select school kept by a most painstaking and deserving lady where girls, and little boys too, we believe, will receive an amount of careful attention seldom met with at a public school; but neither does this meet the popular want. What would appear to be wanted is a good practical female teacher to re-open the department in the Central School for some time closed, where girls could obtain a sound English education on the same terms that prevail in the boys' department. That there are enough of girls ready to attend to justify this step there is not, we believe, a doubt, and we would strongly urge the adoption of a measure so obviously tending to the public good.

CARIBOO.

Barnard's Cariboo Express arrived in this city on Thursday, placing us in possession of files of the Sentinel to the 26th inst., from which we compile the following condensed summary:—The week ending 26th gave birth to no mining incident of interest. Many had come from outlying creeks to spend their Christmas at Barkerville. On Williams Creek the Baker washed up 94oz.; the Cariboo 65oz., and the Baldhead 27. In Stouh's Gulch the Alturas co. had struck very good pay.

The previous week (ending Dec. 19th) appears to have been more prolific of mining intelligence. With much the same results on Williams Creek, the news from less notable localities is rather more encouraging. On Grouse Creek the Hard-up co. had struck a good prospect, and were making preparations to wash for the rest of the winter. On Mosquito Creek, the Willow co. took out 180oz. The Point co. were running a new drive. In Red Gulch those at work were taking out about wages. On Hardscrabble Creek, the Greenhorn co. had struck good prospects on the high rock, and their ground looks very favorable. That section of the country will be well prospected during the present winter. There are nine companies at work on the different creeks and gulches in the locality. On Keithley Creek a great deal of work is being done. The Baxter co. making wages. The Dead-Broke co. were in ground which paid 12oz. to the set of timbers, but were not to the bottom. The Oak co. had got through the rim rock and struck a good prospect. The Two Stars co. had sunk a shaft about 12 feet and got as high as $2, to the pan, in the gravel.

Dump-box robberies continue to occur frequently on Williams Creek. That of the Welsh co. had been robbed twice. Not content with dump-boxes, the thieves had turned their attention to cabins. Abbot's cabin and Jones' cabin were entered and more or less property carried off. It is the subject of remark that in no instance have the thieves been caught. The new hall for the joint use of the Fire Brigade and the Dramatic Club, was about completed. The members of the former organization met in it for drill, attired in their new uniform, and made a fine appearance. A Masonic Hall was about to be built, arrangements having been entered into with Messrs Bruce & Mann for that purpose. "Cottonwood Ranch" has been purchased by Mr. J. Hamilton, of "Pine Grove." The new proprietor is a gentleman of ample means, and contemplates extensive operations. The weather continued remarkably mild and open, and the absence of sufficient snow to make good sleighing was the subject of complaint in freighting circles. On the 16th a log broke away from some Chinamen who were engaged in getting down timber at the upper end of Barkerville. It came bounding down upon the roof of Fletcher's workshop, went clean through the building and across the street, knocking a few boards off Barnard's Express Office. Several persons narrowly escaped injury.

CANADIAN MAIL SUMMARY.

Our Canadian exchanges bring us down to the 4th ult. The subject of State aid to denominational Colleges has been exciting very great interest in Ontario. The Wesleyan Methodists, one of the most influential denominations in that Province, have been moving for endowment of Victoria College, a most deserving institution. For this a very numerously signed petition was presented to the Legislature. On the other hand, petitions poured in from all directions, against denominational endowment. The question was discussed at great length and with much ability in the House, when 58 to 14 voted against the principle of all such endowments. Sir John Young has, it is said, given offence to the French Canadians by replying to their addresses in English, although understanding French perfectly well. The Hon. Mr. Howe delivered a lecture to a Halifax audience, subject, "Halifax in the olden time." He had an immense audience; hundreds were unable to gain admission. The Nova Scotia newspaper war rages as fiercely as ever, Howe, Annand and Judge Marshall being the principal actors. Major Robertson had been committed to stand his trial for having rescued Scovill, the defaulting New Brunswick Banker, from the Sheriff. The paragraph which we published last week, to the effect that Rev Mr. Punshon's name had been struck from the "Legal Hundred," and that the English Conference had withheld its consent to his election as President of the Canadian Conference, is contradicted.

Mr. Cunningham received from San Francisco and Oregon, by the last steamers, a very large and complete assortment of General Merchandise, including many things both useful and ornamental, suitable for Christmas and New Year—just the thing, in fact, for the Holidays. He says Goods can be sold by him cheaper than ever for CASH!

DENTISTRY.—Dr. Grady arrived by the last steamer and is staying at the Colonial Hotel, where he may be consulted professionally for a few days only. Dr. Grady comes to us highly recommended by the Medical profession and needs no word from us.

FROM VICTORIA.—The str. Otter, Capt. Swanson, arrived from Victoria yesterday, with freight and passengers. It appears that the Leviathan had a perilous passage last week, and narrowly escaped wreck. Capt. Stamp retires from the management of the mill at Burrard Inlet. Capt. Raymur takes his place. Dickson Campbell & co. will be the financial agents, and Mr. Nicholson the man of buisness at the Victoria office. The bark Delaware, from Sitka, bound for Port Townsend, went ashore at Fisguard light-house in a gale on the 31st. She has proved a total wreck. The str. Active arrived and ran into Esquimalt during the same gale. The newly appointed Colonial Secretary and wife were amongst the Active's passengers.

Fernelius calls disease an affection of the body, contrary to nature: a pertubation of its habit: a derangement of its course. What disease is, sometimes eludes human intelligence, but some diseases are known—their origin, action and even their antidotes. Whoever has discovered an actual remedy for one disease, has done something for his race. Doct. Ayer has done more, for his medicines afford us the means to control and cure several dangerous disorders. We rarely speak on medical subjects, preferring to leave them to physicians, who understand them better. But such effects as are seen in our midst on affections of the lungs by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on scrofulous complaints by his Sarsaparilla, and on the several complaints that they cure by Ayer's Pills, should not be gnored.—Keokuk, (Iowa) Journal.

BRIGHTON ROAD.—This thoroughfare has, to the discredit of the Government, been practically impassable for several weeks. Mr. Lewis, with his usual enterprise, collected $66.50 the other day and has expended $80, in making such temporary improvements as will, with help of 'Jack Frost' and a few inches of snow, render the road good for winter travel. 'Jack Frost' is, however, very backward in coming forward this season; and as for the indispensable snow, we have seen none of it as yet. It is needless to repeat what has been so frequently stated and what must be well known to the Government:—viz., That the difficulty experienced in communicating between this city and Barrard Inlet is exerting a very injurious and depressing influence upon the trade of both places.

THE UNKINDEST CUT OF ALL.—Our esteemed contemporary of the Cariboo Sentinel, in a very able leading article upon the subject of the Hankin appointment, the whole of which we propose publishing in our next issue, says:—"We must confess that we feel in a manner pleased at the present appointment, without regard to the merits or demerits of the appointee, simply for the reason that it is so obnoxious to our fellow colonists in Victoria." Time was when Victoria influence ruled in Cariboo. Time is, when Victoria selfishness has completely extinguished Victoria influence on the Mainland. The people of Cariboo have learned that Victoria politicians only patted them on the back to pick their pockets!

"IT'S AN ILL WIND" &c.—While our Victoria steamboat folks have been, as they doubtless imagine, leaving us out in the cold, our Merchants have been driving a lively trade with interior traders. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

ARRIVALS.—Amongst the arrivals from up-country during the week were Mr. David Oppenheimer, and Mr. Harper, the extensive cattle and general dealer.

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

European dates are to the 29th inst. In the London Morning Post is published a correspondence between Jas. G. Bennett, Jr. and Ash Burley, of London, relating to an ocean yacht race between the Dauntless and Cambria. In its comment, the Post prefers the Azores track as one much better adopted to test the seagoing qualities of vessels and seamanship of their masters than the regular trans-Atlantic route. The writer exhorts the owners of the British schooner yachts to join in the race and says that the Sapho will participate. The London house of Bremen & Co, heavy dealers in, and manufacturers of cotton, suspended on the 19th. They had extensive connections in America. Reverdy Johnson received a deputation of artisans desirous of founding a colony in Alaska! Mr. Johnson encouraged them. Sir Stafford Northcote has succeeded the Earl of Kimberly as Governor of the Hudson Bay Company. It is the general impression that the Conservatives will be successful in the elections for members of Parliament to fill the vacancies. The new House of Commons met on the 28th for preliminary business. Only eight Ministers who are elected took the oath of office; writs were issued for election to fill the vacancies, after which the House adjourned till the 26th of February. The Spanish news is meagre. For the purpose of reducing the budget of the coming year, the suspension of thirty-seven of the Captain-Generals, Governorships, and Bishoprics, have been suggested. The Government will dispatch 10,000 soldiers to Cuba and Porto Rico during January. The Spanish Government publishes in a gazette the account of the battle of Mooran. Among the baggage captured from the insurrectionists were several jars of strychnine; eight hundred fillibusters have landed at the bay of Cochinas and Santiago. The Government has ready 1800 troops in that part of the island. They are surrounded by 10,000 insurgents. The authorities are without funds and pay nobody; distress and destitution prevail everywhere. Semi-official journals say that Spain will not even consider the subject of the sale of Cuba to the United States. Troops have sailed for Cuba. The Duke de Montpensier announces liberal views. A manifesto suggests the nomination of a son of the Duke de Montpensier for King, under a regency. The ex-King of Naples is dangerously ill; his condition is kept as secret as possible, but it creates serious disquiet among his friends in Rome. Garibaldi has written a letter, formally declining the commission in the Greek army, which had been tendered him by the Greek Government in view of the threatened war. Affairs between the Greek and the Turkish Governments are still unsettled. Hostilities have however been suspended and the Conference of the Great Powers was to assemble in Paris early in the present month. The Vienna Presse says the Greek Government is ready to comply with the recent demands made by Turkey, supported by the Great Powers of Europe.

The New York Evening Post has a report that Caleb Cushing was sent to Bogota with full power from the Government to close contract for building a ship canal across the Isthmus, towards which it is said the Government is ready to guarantee a million dollars. Gen. Grant is warmly in favor of the scheme. Cushing is convinced that the canal must be built at or very near the line of the Panama railroad. A grand banquet was given in New York, on the 29th ult., in honor of Professor Morse, of the Magnetic Telegraph. An instrument in the hall was placed in communication with San Francisco, and messages were sent direct between the two cities. The difference in time was ascertained to be three and a quarter hours.

LENTEN SCENE IN A CHURCH.

There was a scene at St. James's Chapel, Brighton, which is thus described in the Hull Mail Gazette:—Before any prayers were read a procession of the persons officiating at the service—numbering thirty in all—clad in vestments of various colours, and preceded by a man carrying a cross, walked slowly round the church. Mr. Purchas came nearly last, a boy swinging incense before him. The procession had gone nearly round the church, the whole place being filled with the smoke of the incense, when a man started up in one of the pews and held aloft what appeared to be a placard. He at the same time shouted out some remarks, and was thought by those near him to be about to throw a book at Mr. Purchas's head. A rush was made at him, and instantly a scene of wild excitement and disorder was witnessed. The whole congregation arose and left their pews, the priests and choristers fled precipitately to the altar, Mr. Purchas among them, and the man with the placard was seized by at least a score of hands. The door-keepers and attendants seemed to be prepared for a disturbance of this kind; for several of them hastened to their seats and brought out thick staves, with which they repaired to the pew where the fight was going on. The noise these men made and the cries of the people threw the whole congregation into an extraordinary state of agitation. There was rather a sharp struggle to get the man who began the disturbance out of the building. He resisted vigorously, clinging fast to the top of the pew in which he was seated, and crying, at the top of his voice, "Let the brutes let me go." At last he was carried on men's shoulders out of the place, and the police were sent for. The organ was played, and an attempt was made to resume the service; but for some few minutes the effort was very unsuccessful. Mr. Purchas kept whispering orders to his attendants, casting restless glances meanwhile round upon the congregation. Several ladies were taken from the chapel in a half fainting condition, and the faces of the men were very white. Mr. Purchas, at a subsequent period of the service, read a few of the prayers, but in a tremulous voice, which revealed how deeply he was agitated. His face was perfectly white. As it turned out, there was no need for these alarms. The one sturdy Protestant, having been removed by the neck and heels, there was no further interruption of the service. The priests changed their robes repeatedly, the high candles were lighted, clouds of incense again filled the chapel, and at the end Mr. Purchas was able to make an appeal for money for the sustentation of service in the chapel, in a tolerably firm voice. The Rev. K. Clay, incumbent of St. Margaret's, and some other gentlemen of Brighton, have written to the Bishop of Chichester, stating that if he will prosecute Mr. Purchas, in the Court of Arches, they will undertake to pay the costs of the suit."

As you walk along the Rue de Rivoli, says a Paris correspondent, you observe at any hour of the day a crowd of people about the doorway of the hotel where the Queen of Spain and suite are lodged. A number of police are stationed to keep order. Queen Isabella, however, does not make her appearance, and I am told has only been out once or twice in an imperial carriage, since her arrival among us. The Queen is organizing her Court, and observes all the etiquette of a reigning Sovereign. Count Ezpelota, master of ceremonies, formally announced her arrival to the Emperor and Empress at Compeigne, to which imperial residence some say she will be invited. The Princess Mathilde has called on the Spanish royal family, as well as some foreign diplomatists and the Pope's Nuncio. The Emperor and Empress show the fallen sovereign every attention. There is no kindly feeling in Paris toward the Spanish Bourbons, and jokes and severe remarks are very general in all classes of society.

The Empress Eugenie is said to favor the fashion of high tortoise-shell combs.

BLOOD DISEASES.

THE peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

ADDRESS

TO THE

NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED

WHOSE

SUFFERINGS HAVE BEEN PROTRACTED,

AND WHOSE CASES

REQUIRE PROMPT TREATMENT TO RENDER EXISTENCE DESIRABLE.

If you are suffering have suffered, what effect does it produce upon your general health?

Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired?

Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart?

Does your liver, urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order?

Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flocky, or is it ropy on settling?

Or does a thick scum rise to the top?

Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile?

Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia?

Are your bowels constipated?

Do you have spells of fainting or rushes of blood to the head?

Is your memory impaired?

Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject?

Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, or of life?

Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody?

Does any little thing make you start or jump?

Is your sleep broken or restless?

Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant?

The bloom on your cheek as bright?

Do you enjoy society as well?

Do you pursue your business with the same energy?

Are your spirits dull and flagging, alive to fits of melancholy? If so, you need not to your liver or dyspepsia.

Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver complaint?

NOW, READER,

DISEASES BADLY CURED, AND EXPOSED.

Are capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, brilliant, energetic, persevering, successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of hypochondriasis, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business as they don't become nervous and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks, or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflamed by running into excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men, from badly-cured diseases and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other form of disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble never suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one?

Diseases of this sort require a Diuretic.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Edes, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Sibbitt, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Deanisville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles T. Gage, Esq., of the widely-known Magic Marrow & Co., manufacturers of enamelled papers in Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Sawtin, Houlton St., New York.

"DR. AYER: I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession and suffering people."

From A. E. Johnson, Esq., Wilkesean, Ohio.

"For twenty years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Mercer, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tunkhannock Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"One only child, about three years of age, was attacked by erysipelas in the forehead. They rapidly spread until the entire face became a virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies without any apparent effect. Others drew me aside and guarded his having lest with them he should open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the tonic of potash lotion, as you directed. The sore began to heal up as soon as the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now a healthy and fair as my other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

From Dr. Gordon Stout, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more efficient remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. Fearn, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., and a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER. My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the following and secondary types, and effecting some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more painful for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness, are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, in aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the skilful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of Irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect is properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very distressing Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia, when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

CURE IS AT HAND!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT

Scorbutic Eruptions, as Sore Heads and Scrofulous Swellings.

If this powerful Ointment be well rubbed into the parts affected, all skin disease will be speedily overcome. It relaxes not by repressing, as many ointments do, but opens the pores, cools the blood, and operates not locally only, but constitutionally purifying the whole system, neutralizing all depraved humours, and effecting a radical and complete cure. The Pills should be taken as an auxiliary to the Ointment, as they are so powerful in correcting all disorders of the stomach and liver, facilitating and confirming the conquest of the disease.

Diphtheria, Ulcerated Sore Throat and Quinsey.

The above complaints have for twenty years been treated with Holloway's Ointment and Pills with complete success. The cures have been so remarkable, speedy and numerous, that these often fatal diseases are more easily cured by these medicines, than even the common sore throat, if taken in time.

The Kidneys, Stone and Gravel.

In these complaints, the Ointment almost acts like a charm, trouble it is very effectually rubbed over the regions of the kidneys, which it will penetrate and give relief immediately, while the Pills should be taken according to the printed directions, when the most extraordinary cures may be effected by this means.

Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, Scrofulous Sores, and Glandular Swellings.

In such cases the Ointment operates surely and with a rapidity that resembles magic. It should be rubbed into the parts affected, after they have been fomented with luke-warm water. The purifying and curative powers of this marvellous unguent have never failed. Any old sore, wound or ulcer always yields to its influence, and in cases of bad breasts, or milk fevers, its action is wonderful. Glandular swellings may soon be reduced by following the printed directions.

The Action of the Heart. Dropsy.

The last named disease is commonly preceded by irregular action of the heart, and difficult respiration; which symptoms are always severe, and ever go from bad to worse, unless proper means of cure are resorted to. In Holloway's unrivalled Ointment and Pills the dropsical patient will ever find succour; the present relief derived from the use of these remedies is marvellously quick, and perseverance in the application of this famous Ointment, invariably results in a cure. They act with such energy on the circulation and absorbent system, that the dropsical fluid vanishes, and the sufferer finds all the oppressive symptoms daily decline, till natural health returns.

Gout and Rheumatism.

May be cured with the greatest certainty if large quantities of the Ointment be well rubbed into the complaining parts, and this perseveringly done for some time. It is no use to smear it on the skin only, it must be got into the system. Take as many Pills nightly as will act two or three times during the 24 hours; eschew the use of coffee, and all stimulants. When these complaints are leaving the system, the virulence of the complaint frequently seems to increase.

Indigestion of Youth.

Sores, ulcers and swellings can with certainty be cured if this Ointment be thoroughly rubbed all round the complaining parts twice or thrice a day, keeping them covered with linen rag smeared with the same.

The Pills must be taken according to the printed directions. The blood being in an impure state, perseverance is necessary. From humane motives letters of advice will be answered gratuitously. To save carriage the Pills should be obtained in the neighborhood of the sufferer, and not from Holloway's Establishment.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—

Bad Legs,	Chapped hands,	Scalds,
Bad Breasts,	Contracted and	Sore Nipples,
Burns,	Stiff Joints,	Sore-throats,
Bunions,	Elephantiasis,	Skin-diseases,
Bite of Mosquitoes and Sand-flies,	Fistulas,	Scurvy,
	Gout,	Sore-heads,
Coco-bay,	Glandular Swellings,	Tumors,
Chiego-foot,		Ulcers,
Corns (soft),	Lumbago,	Wounds,
Cancers,	Piles,	Yaws.
Chilblains,	Rheumatism,

☞ There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.
